

AstraZeneca US Contributions is proud to share the nonprofit organizations that were awarded charitable contributions from the open call for applications in July 2015. These funding recipients demonstrated programs with the potential for impact and in alignment with one or more of our strategic areas – core therapeutic areas, health or science innovation and/or community support. Thank you to the over 200 nonprofit organizations from across the U.S. that applied for funding during this period. Our next open call for applications is scheduled for January, 2016.
